

Judgement's Coming

Cruising down the road in your sleek limousine
Politicians in your pocket, yeah – your wallet's full of green
Throw the niggers into prison so you're sure that they can't vote
Keep the TV pumping rubbish so the system stays afloat
You destroy your own twin towers and the Muslims take the rap
Send your army to crush Saddam so the oil falls in your lap

There's only one solution, come and join the revolution
Got no health care, got no job, got no hope – we've all been robbed

Yes – your banks have screwed the system, 'cos it's them that caused the crash
So they took taxpayers' money and they filled the banks with cash
Morgan brothers and the others have the government to thank
We know you lost your houses, but we had to save the banks

There's only one solution, come and join the revolution
Got no health care, got no job, got no hope – we've all been robbed

Don't forget that judgement's coming; you'll be measured on the scales
Of a different sort of justice that sends innocents to jail
Yeah, that judgement day is coming; Satan's stoking up the fire
You'll be thrown into the furnace where you'll suffer hour by hour
So enjoy your rotten system – keeps you floating in the money
While ninety-nine per cent can only dream of milk and honey

There's only one solution, come and join the revolution
Got no health care, got no job, got no hope – we've all been robbed
